

Word / Expression	Korean	Usage	Notes
PMA	긍정적 사고와 적극적 태도	I like our new employee. She's got a good PMA / To be successful you need a PMA	PMA is short for "Positive Mental Attitude"
The snivels	snivel: 코를 훌쩍거리다	I'm catching a cold. I've got the snivels / I wish I could shake off this cold. I still have the snivels	A light nose cold - the snivels is the sound you make when you blow your nose.
The next big thing	차세대 신...(기술, 제품, 비즈니스 ...)	Our company's still looking for the next big thing / Samsung think they've found the next big thing with their smart watch. I'm not so sure	The next popular product or service
Something's come up	예상치 못한 일이 발생하다	I'm really sorry, I can't make our meeting. Something's come up at work / I'm afraid I have to cancel our lunch. Something's come up	Something happened that prevents you from doing what you planned to do.
In the limelight	각광을 받는, 사람들의 이목을 끄는	The heads of the major banks are in the limelight these days for poor customer data security / Our CEO is in the limelight at the moment because she just published a book	People are noticing you or them because of something good or bad that you did
Untimely	시기 부적절한, 시기상조인	People are upset at the moment because of the untimely death of our manager / This is an untimely problem we have at the moment	(of an event or act) happening or done at an unsuitable time.
Refreshing	신선한 상쾌하게 하는, 원기를 북돋우는	It's refreshing to see such a good presentation / It's refreshing to see a man in a suit and tie these days /an ice cold Coke Cola is refreshing on a hot summer's day	Refreshing can mean something new that is nice or good or it can mean the feeling you get when you drink a cold drink on a hot day