

Word / Expression	Korean	Usage	Notes
Embark / Disembark	embark: 탑승하다 embark on: ~에 착수하다. ~을 시작하다 disembark: 내리다	Flight 237 is embarking at gate 22C / She is embarking on a career in medicine / Please make sure you have all your belongings when you disembark the plane	Embark means get on or start something. Disembark means get off, but NOT finish something. These words are a little old fashioned, but are still used in airports and train stations
Tip of the iceberg	빙산의 일각	Our lack of sales is just the tip of the iceberg / His behaviour is just the tip of the iceberg	This means that the problem you see or are aware of is not the only problem. There are much bigger problems underneath.
Flirting	장난삼아 연애하는, 추파를 던지는	He's always flirting with the girls / She's such a big flirt whenever there's a nice looking guy around / Stop flirting!	Flirting is an action either verbally or through body language that suggests you have a romantic interest in somebody.
Without further ado	(앞 이야기는) 이쯤에서 끝내고, 이쯤에서 접고	Right, without further ado , let's get started. / Without further ado let me begin	A great phrase to begin a presentation. It means 'without more small talk'
Slipped my mind	잊어 버리다, 생각이 나질 않다	I'm sorry, it slipped my mind / Damn! It slipped my mind.	Meaning you forgot something
roasting	찌는 듯 (살이 타는 듯) 더운	It's very hot today - it's roasting outside / WOW it's roasting in here!	Almost the opposite of "it's freezing". Meaning is very hot
Alone / Lonely	alone: 혼자, 다른사람 없이 lonely: 외로운, 쓸쓸한	I want to be alone this afternoon / I enjoy taking lunch alone / I feel lonely / I was lonely last weekend	We chose to be alone not lonely. Lonely is more of a feeling.